The results of this research showed that the society of Tana Toraja Regency participates actively to support and affect the decision making of area expansion in Tana Toraja Regency and to form of the new autonomous regency of North Toraja. The local political elites so participate in support and influence decision making of area expansion in Tana Toraja Regency and to form of the new autonomous regency of North Toraja. The regional government of Tana Toraja Regency as well as take the role in support and influence decision making of area expansion in Tana Toraja Regency. Regional Parliament has an active role in support and influence decision making of area expansion in Tana Toraja Regency and to form of the new autonomous regency of North Toraja. The regents/mayors will be coverage of the province, the provincial parliament approval parent, and governor, as well as the recommendation of the Minister of Home Affairs. Terms administratively to District / City covering their approval Regency / City Regional People's Representative Assembly and the Regent / Mayor is concerned, the approval of Parliament and the Governor Propinsi and recommendations Minister of Home Affairs. Technical requirements include factors on which to base that includes the establishment of a regional economic capacity factor, the potential of the area, defense, security, and other factors that enable the implementation of regional autonomy. The terms of physical include at least five District / Municipality for the establishment of at least five provinces and the District for the establishment of district and four sub-district for the establishment of the city, location, potential capital, facilities, and government infrastructure.

Establishment and expansion of regions in the era of regional autonomy can not be denied as a result of the policy of regional autonomy that is used by local political elites. To take advantage of this opportunity, several regions in Indonesia including several areas in South Sulawesi Province dissociate oneself from its parent assuming that built that of the area to improve the welfare of the people, improving the quantity and quality of public services and bring government closer to the people. It is being developed by the local political elite to the community so that the demands of regional expansion continues. Based on the observations and supported by some of the survey results, which developed into a regional division division problem. It can be identified as follows:

First, regional division aims to improve people's welfare, the fact that there is regional expansion further away from the people's welfare. Ministry of Home Affairs in the evaluation results mentioned 104 areas (five provincial and 97 districts) occurred in 2000, one year after the enactment of Law No. 22 of 1999 there were 76 areas are still the problematic start of asset parent regions that have not been handed over to autonomous regions until the location of the capital uncertain (Kompas March 3, 2006).

Second, the Local Government Act disallows the regional division has produced 104 new autonomous regions (four provincial and 100 district/city) fantastic figures for the addition of new areas on the Indonesian island countries, making it appear as if the central government pursued the target to shape their neighborhoods new areas. No half-hearted, there is even a newly established area, already split the new area again. (Example Luwu three years old). Luwu Utara has generated division LuwuTimur (2003). On the other hand, the reason that is always used the central government is to improve the welfare of society through models bring government closer to the community and local political elites on the other hand also gave the reason that the regional division of public services is getting better. However, it is not uncommon in new areas has raised controversy in the community, which then triggers the horizontal and vertical conflicts in which people become victims. Example PolewaliMamasa causing horizontal conflicts in the region and MambiraleTambulahan triggered by the expansion of PolewaliMandar and Mamasa.

Third, the new regional division pain for the mother, the assumptions developed in the region expansion is the main district "self-sacrifice", because they have to release some of its territory, population, and its assets. Problems arising from the main district and district division is the division of assets and local revenue the cause is an imbalance between regional income earned (financial conflict) by the district as a major source of local revenue (PAD), which consists of market tax, parking, housing Hospitals, bus terminal. Unclear directions of regional expansion into an active stimulus that encourages regions to be separated from its mother and stood alone into autonomous regions.

Fourth, the legal framework has been used in the region expansion is Government Regulation No. 129 of 2000. Government Regulation is a derivative of the Act number 22 of 1999 on local government. But the government regulations is the establishment of requirements and criteria for expansion, deletion, and incorporation of the area is still considered loose.

Various problems that accompany the process of expansion during this time as strengthening the alleged absence of a large design (grand design), the basis for determining the extent to which the expansion with subnational governments in this country. Indeed the establishment of regional efforts is to improve the public services that primarily improve the welfare of the people, the expansion of space for political education, community empowerment, and to optimize the use of natural resources that can be enjoyed by the community. However, in practice, often more motivated by regional expansion pursuing funding from the regional center of the edges stimulate corruption. And the process of regional expansion that took place since 1999 rolling uncontrollably. Based on the multiple phenomena of the expansion process of the autonomous regions, the focus of this paper on the results of the study tries to reveal the level of public participation in the process of regional expansion, the level participation of local political elites, the role of local government (Regents and Legislature), and the impact of the expansion of public services in the District North Toraja.

II. THEORETICAL STUDY

Autonomous region expansion is the fruit of a political policy of decentralization that gave birth to regional autonomy, opening up space for the region to split the new area as mandated by law on local government. Establishment and expansion of regions, forming regions are giving status to certain areas as provincial or district/city, while the regional division is solving the provincial or district/city into two or more regions (government regulations number 78 of 2007 concerning the procedures for the establishment, abolition and the merging of regions). Expansion of the autonomous region has been studied by experts among others Dwiyanto (2006), Efendy (2007, Pratikno (2008), Retnaningsih (2008), Infallible (2008), Leemaas (1970), Burhan (2011), Maryono (1958), (Ferrasi (2007).

Level of Public Participation in Process Autonomous Regional Expansion

In the formation of new autonomous regions, is widely acknowledged the role of community participation is necessary because people expect their government as the owner of the proximity of government and society. Therefore the level of willingness and the willingness of the community to participate in the implementation of governmental tasks and the implementation of regional autonomy greatly enhances the ability of the new autonomous region held government affairs submitted by the central government.

The level of community participation North Toraja regency in the process of establishing autonomous regions is an essential element inherent in the process. But it does not mean everyone can participate with the same intensity and capacity. This is because of differences in abilities, differences in interests, skill differences between members of the community with one another.

Participation of Local Political Elites In Redistricting Process Autonomous Region. Political elites are individuals who topped the major institutions in society. Because of its institutional position, the political elite has the ability to issue political decisions are valid and binding on all members of society. Power political elite to make and carry out decisions can be expressed rooted in institutions where they are at the top. Through these institutions, those belonging to the group can carry out political elite and also impose decisions to adhere to other members of society (MeriamBudiardjo, 1984).

In connection with this, the new autonomous region expansion is a political policy of decentralization in the form of regional autonomy. Autonomous region expansion is not a direct impact on the public welfare but only meet the aspirations and interests of the local political elite in the autonomous region expansion plays an important and quite got the attention of the government (Kompas, 20 November 2012).

Participation of the local political elite is the elite political participation both working at the local government bureaucracy and outside the government, bureaucracy can be a factor in the formation of new autonomous regions.

Role of Local Government in the Autonomous Region Redistricting Process.

The regional governments are organizing government affairs by the local government and the Parliament according to the principle of autonomy and duty and principle of the Unitary Republic of Indonesia as stipulated in the Constitution of the Republic of Indonesia in 1945. In the establishment of new autonomous regions on the part of local government both Regent and the executive, the device and the House of Representatives regional People Parent plays an important and strategic and is one indicator of administrative requirements mandated by the Act for the establishment of new autonomous regions.

III. ROLE OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT OF TANATORAJA

The local government of Tanotoraja as the district Parent is the Regent and the device has a decisive role in the process of formation of new autonomous regions are North Toraja district. In Article 5 of Law 32 of 2004 the results of the revision of Law No.22 of 1999, affirmed that the establishment of autonomous regions as referred to in Article 4 must be qualified administrative, technical, and physical territoriality. Administrative requirements for the establishment of new autonomous regions, namely the approval of the district Parent Regents and Regional People's Representative Assembly.

Tanotoraja Regency Role in New Autonomous Regional Expansion Process

Legislative Council of TanaToraja is local people's representative body and serves as an element of the regional administration plays an important and strategic in the process of formation of North Toraja district. The formation of new autonomous regions must fulfill the administrative requirements, namely the approval of Parliament and head Local District Parent (TanaToraja), the role of district Regional People's Representative Assembly of TanaToraja can be seen in the performance of duties and obligations to be executed in the process of formation of North Toraja district.

First, the Regional People's Representative Assembly as the Institute of Regional People's Representatives is obliged to absorb, collect and follow up the people's aspirations. Based on the review of documents obtained information that the aspirations of the people of Tanotoraja Northern Territory in the form of a list of questions written support signed by approximately 556 (five hundred and fifty-six) public figures, submitted formally to the regency of TanaToraja precisely on 2 September, TanaToraja regency respond positively and accept the aspirations of appropriate mechanisms aspiration reception in Parliament (History of the Struggle Formation of North Toraja Regency, 2002: 42).

Second, the Regional People's Representative Assembly of Tanotoraja Regency reabsorb the aspirations of the people who fight for the division of Tanotoraja district of North and follow up these aspirations to affirm the committee deliberations prepare the agenda for the plenary session of parliament for discussion of the aspirations of the community that continues to grow. On 12 September 2002 Parliament held a plenary session receive the expansion aspirations of Tanotoraja. Furthermore, on 24 September 2002 to implement the Tanotoraja regency plenary session and take a decision on the division of North Toraja district and designated by decree of Parliament No: 11 / KEP / DPRD / IX / 2002. By decision of the Parliament, it can answer the aspirations of the people.

The impact of the Autonomous Regional Expansion of Public Service and Public Welfare

Regional expansion or creation of new autonomous regions in the organization of regional autonomy aimed at shortening the span of control of local government services and the Regional Representatives Council to the public in improving the people's welfare.

In conjunction with the expansion of new autonomous regions is North Toraja regency which was established by Law No. 28 The year 2008, which is the result of the division of TanaToraja. From the review of the document and supported by a wide range of information obtained from informants that the formation of North Toraja Regency aims to gain government control range of the districts in the area of North Toraja Regency very much to the mains, and improve public services.

IV. CONCLUSION

The proliferation of New Autonomous Region of North Toraja is a result of the decentralization policy fruit in the form of regional autonomy was passed through Act 28 of 2008. Where participation levels of society and participation of the local political elite and the government's role and the role of parliament will determine the formation of the autonomous region. The impact of the expansion of the autonomous regions of North Toraja is an change in public services in order to improve the welfare of society.
