I. BACKGROUND

a. Background of the problem

One of the efforts to realize the independence of the nation (state) in terms of development financing is to explore sources of funds originating from within the country in the form of taxes. Taxes are used to finance development that is useful for the common good. Mardiasmo (2018) states that one of the functions of taxes is for the budget (budgetair), namely taxes are used to finance state expenditures. The expenditure is quite large, especially for state spending, the largest portion of which is personnel expenditure, spending on education, infrastructure development as well as transfers to regions and village funds. According to Yosep Poernomo (2020).

Tax is the dominant source of revenue in the structure of the State Revenue and Expenditure Budget (APBN), which exceeds 80% in the 2018-2020 State Budget and income tax is the largest component of domestic tax revenue among other domestic tax revenues. Although the government targets tax revenues to increase every year, for 2022 tax revenues are targeted at IDR 1,265 trillion, lower than the realization of tax revenues in 2021 amounting to IDR 1,277.5 trillion. to issue tax regulations (policies) that can lead to the achievement of these targets.

Accompanying these reforms, has several important points. In the structural sector, the Law on the Harmonization of Tax Regulations aims to improve the ease of doing business and the investment climate, expand employment opportunities, and accelerate economic growth. In the financial system sector, tax reform is expected to create a financial system that is inclusive, healthy, and able to efficiently serve the dynamics of social economic activity.

Then in the fiscal sector, this reform is expected to improve the quality of state spending for the protection of vulnerable people, be able to provide quality public facilities, and increase the effectiveness of economic growth. Finally, in the state governance sector, tax reform is expected to create a mature democratic system, an efficient and effective bureaucracy, and build constructive government and regional relations.

The Law on Harmonization of Tax Regulations covers General Provisions and Tax Procedures, Income Tax (PPh), Value Added Tax (PPN), Taxpayer Voluntary Disclosure Program, Carbon Tax, to Excise. This law also regulates the principles and objectives. The Law on the Harmonization of Tax Regulations is implemented based on the principles of justice, simplicity, efficiency, legal certainty, benefit, and the national interest.
The purpose of drafting this law is to increase sustainable economic growth and support the acceleration of economic recovery, optimize state revenues to finance national development independently towards a just, prosperous and prosperous Indonesian society, realize a tax system that is more just and legal with certainty, implement administrative reform, consolidated taxation policies, tax expansion, and increasing taxpayer compliance.

The concrete objectives of tax reform through the Law on Harmonization of Tax Regulations are to expand the tax base, increase compliance, strengthen tax administration, and create justice, equality, and legal certainty. In addition, tax reform is also intended to protect the lower middle income community and Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises.

Tax reform needs to be carried out to realize Indonesia as a developed country. This reform is an integral part of the agenda for Structural Reform (Real Sector), Fiscal Reform, Financial System Reform, and State Governance Reform.

The implementation of income tax in the Law on the Harmonization of Tax Regulations is interesting to discuss.    The latest tax regulations related to the types of personal income tax, in the Law on the Harmonization of Tax Regulations, the rates for personal income tax are set and the personal income tax bracket has changed. The latest Tax Law which regulates the personal income tax rate or Article 21 income tax rate is a revision of the income tax law in the Law on the Harmonization of Tax Regulations. Changes in personal income tax rates and layers in this Law on the Harmonization of Tax Regulations can make the calculation of Article 21 Personal income tax lower than when still using the calculation according to the Personal income tax rate in the Law on Harmonization of Tax Regulations.

   Provisions regarding nature in the Tax Regulation Harmonization Law group are also regulated again in the Tax Regulation Harmonization Law. There are several meanings of Natura, as according to the Big Indonesian Dictionary (KBBI), the notion of Natura is actual goods and not in the form of money.

   Meanwhile, according to the Circular Letter of the Director General of Taxes Number SE-03/PJ.03/1984, enjoyment in kind is any remuneration received or obtained by an employee, employee, or female employee and/or her family not in the form of money from the employer. Regarding the imposition of taxes on in-kind, in the Law on the Harmonization of Tax Regulations which regulates personal income taxes, it is stated that in-kind grants to employees can be paid for by the employer and is income for the employee. Meanwhile, certain Natura do not constitute income for the recipient, including:
   - Provision of food/drink for all employees
   - Nature in certain areas
   - In nature due to work requirements, for example: work safety equipment or uniforms

Individual entrepreneur income tax (MSME) is a change in the final tax rate from 0.5% (PP No.23/2018) to 0% or not subject to tax for a year's gross turnover of up to IDR 500 million. Income tax for small and medium businesses with a turnover certain income tax is imposed in accordance with PP No. 23/2018 (Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises tax). In the Law on the Harmonization of Tax Regulations, provisions in the Income Tax Law are also regulated regarding Personal Entrepreneur taxpayers who are exempt from the imposition of income tax by stipulating that a gross turnover of up to Rp. 500,000,000 per year is not subject to income tax. With the existence of a gross turnover limit (similar to non-taxable income (PTKP) for individual taxpayers as employees) which is not subject to this income tax, this means that SMEs or individual taxpayers with income above the gross turnover limit are not subject to income tax, the amount of income tax paid will be smaller.
